“ There are no words to express the loss of a dear friend for almost five years. We had so much in common with our love of sewing and embroidery. Our paths crossed at an evening class. But our phone conversations during the Covid panic were filled with love of family, food Dots Polish background and my Italian but always reminding ourselves of how much we were proud to be Americans. Dotty you were always loving and loyal to what you believed in but most of all to your family. I am so grateful our paths crossed.

I always finished our conversations with the word Blessings but now I know how Blessed I was to call you friend.
