Mom I love you more than anything life could ever offer. Whatever problems I had you were always there. Whenever I felt like giving up you always knew how to help me carry on. Whenever I was hurt and woke up from surgery I saw you there keeping vigil by my side. I love the life you gave me but I'm finding it difficult to look ahead but I will try because I love you. You taught me so many things about life but you have more strength that I could ever hope to have but I will do my best and will try to be just like you. People often talk about their hero's in life Mom and for me I need not look any further than you.

Whenever I heard these words they always made me think of you. no matter where I was.

"There ought to be a hall of fame for mother, For she is creations most unique and precious pearl. May heaven help us always to remember, that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

I love you Mom, your son Nate

“ A poem written by my beautiful mother Mary Theresa Carioti, sometime in the 1980's. This poem was submitted and she was awarded the Silver Poets award in 1987, and invited to receive her award in Orlando Florida. In her written response to the invitation to the awards ceremony, my mom selflessly decided to decline the invitation because of her five children that had to be cared for as well as the fact that her father our wonderful grandfather recently passed away and her mother our amazing grandmother was living with us now too. She humbly went on to thank the awards committee telling them that the letter of acknowledgement meant more to her than the award and it gave her inspiration.

The Cross

*How you were beaten and bound.
How they gave you thorns for a crown.
The agony you felt with each hit.
The disgrace you had when they spit.
How you carried the cross on that road.
It must have been a heavy load.
I feel weak and I feel frail, when I think about the hammering of those nails.
How another's sins you could forgive, You promised that day in paradise he would live.
I think of all the blood you spilled.
For us you died upon that hill.*

God has spare my life tonight, through his Holy Spirit, and I know my mother Mary T Carioti had to do with it because the Holy Spirit Came to me the same day and told me my Mother Mary is with me. Amen

“ My condolences for the family. I have never seen a family who gave so much love to their mother. Mary was such a sweet woman and would give you the shirt off her back. I will miss her and her family so much. The world was such a better place with her in it.

Sincerely, Lynda Kubicka
